Purpose of the Policy

Lenstec understands and accepts its obligations and responsibility towards its customers, employees and the communities in which it works. We strive to provide high-quality products and services, whilst ensuring that any workers involved in the production or delivery of these are not exploited or treated in any way that breaks minimum Labour standards as stated in this policy. Suppliers and Contractors will be issued with our Policy and encouraged to commit to the standards herein. We have documented its policy in relation to Labour Standards, approved by senior management to support this objective.

The following compelling reasons have been identified to establish a system of Minimum Labour Standards to guide it in its business operations:

- Ethical Responsibilities
- Threat to Supply of Chain
- Threat to the Quality of Goods and Services
- Damage to Lenstec's Reputation and Adverse Publicity

Definition of the Policy

The company seeks to implement a policy which is appropriate in nature and scale and reflects guidance from the following acts below

Minimum Wage Act 1998, Working Time regulations 1998,

Employment Rights Act 1996, Health and Safety at Work Act 1974, Pension Act 2004,

Also, to meet the guidelines and standards established by ILO, Employment Laws relevant to all Countries from which products are sourced, United Kingdom Labour Law and NHS Supply Chain Code of Conduct.

These Minimum Labour Standards are:

Child Labour

Supply Chain Management

Lenstec commits to incorporating into existing procedures, a Labour Market Status Review when contracting a new supplier. Our Labour Market Standards Policy will be issued. Where appropriate we will show a preference to suppliers with higher Labour Market Standards.

With existing suppliers, we will strive to ensure that Labour standards are continually improving, where needs are, with the distribution and communication of this Policy. We will regularly review and assess the status of our suppliers Labour Market Standards by reviews and regular visits.

Where a breach or need for improvement in Labour Market standards is found we will initially remind the supplier of our Policy and then set a date by which some improvement will need to be seen by us.

We will keep in contact with the supplier during this time. If no improvement is seen by this date, we will not place any orders from this supplier until remedial action has been taken and evidence has been presented to remedy the breach.

Review Procedure of the Policy
